WE CAN USE THAT TEN BILLION

A SUMMERS of the papers have been calling attention recently to some of the uses of the United States could make of the $10,000,000,000.00 which was loaned to the United States by the United States government. We have to have a million dollars to pay the interest on the loan. We have to have a million dollars to pay the interest on the loan. We have to have a million dollars to pay the interest on the loan.

The sum of ten billion dollars is a large sum of money. It is a sum of money that can be used in many ways. It can be used to pay the interest on the loan. It can be used to pay the interest on the loan. It can be used to pay the interest on the loan.

VICES - SHOCK - TAXATION

The recent San Francisco riot cases, with their accompanying disorders, shocked the entire United States, and as a result thereof the rioters were lynched. San Francisco is now having a clean up such as it never before experienced, but it took a serious of terrible crimes to arouse the general public to a sufficient extent to force an action.

Taxes in the United States have piled up little by little to the total before the war was not sufficiently large to cause more than a groan at taxpaying time.

With the war came necessity for increased taxes that were undreamed of but during the war incomes jumped to such an extent that still the taxes could be paid with only a little more grumbling.

The war ended and war profits eventually stopped but the tax levy and tax spending bodies of the states and nation had doubled and quadrupled, and their insatiable appetite continued.

As the San Francisco gangsters, with their ever growing boldness, daily committed outrages which shocked the world, so are the tax payers going to feel the wrath of public sentiment when the continued luxury of political extravagance has to be met by the common citizen out of a peace-time income. It may be said that the people have only themselves to blame for such expenditure in public affairs. This will not delay the reckoning, however, any more than it will to say that San Francisco is to blame for allowing the growth of conditions leading up to the recent trouble there.

It takes a shock to awaken the public even to its own shortcomings. Vice conditions awakened the moral consciousness of San Francisco after girls had been outraged and men murdered.

Taxation windmills of this nation will awaken the public to its laxness in public affairs when it finally realizes that the toll of the tax gatherer has closed industries, created unemployment and has been the greatest factor in increasing the cost of living.

THE APPEAL WOULD SUPPORT TANNERHILL

If the Appeal were a Republican paper and had any say in the matter it would strongly advocate the selection of Alex. Tannerhill as speaker of the coming legislative assembly. The chief reason for supporting him would be that he is not only able and experienced, but he is a friend of the newspapers and not mixed up with corporations that would restrict the powers and efficiency of the press.

Tannerhill's chief opponent for the speakership is Charles S. Chandler of White Pine, who, it should be remembered by every paper in the state, attempted in the session of two years ago to put a stop to the publication of annual statements.

MANILA CHINESE SEND RELIEF TO BRETHREN

MANILA, P. I., Jan. 10. The Chinese of Manila have sent $100,000 in cash and 2000 pieces of clothing to the famine sufferers of China. The local Chinese plan to add at least $100,000 additional to the relief fund. Foodstuffs, such as rice, which the relief committee has expected to purchase in this market, will not be bought on account of the high prices prevailing.

HOGS, DOGS, GOATS IN ROW ON BOOZE FARM

OMAHA, Jan. 10. A drunken hog and an intoxicated dog were engaged in a gory battle with three infuriated goats when deputy sheriffs descended on the farm of George Fred, alleged moonshiner, near here. The goats, which had imbibed more freely than the other animals, got decidedly the worst of the argument. The officers found six stills in full operation.

LAW VIOLATORS WILL BE TAKEN TO TASK

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Jan. 10. Legislators of this state passed notice during New York's crime wave that at the last session they intend introducing measures to provide greater penalties for highwaymen and burglars.

At the same time, the courts are quickly deciding to keep out of the business of punishing highwaymen and burglars. The courts are quickly deciding to keep out of the business of punishing highwaymen and burglars.

Several states provide for life imprisonment for any term up to 10 years. The life sentence is possible in Maryland, Florida, Iowa, Ohio, Rhode Island and South Carolina, while in Massachusetts, Michigan and Hawaii California provides for "not less than ten years." The least severe penalty is that of Connecticut which stipulates and more than seven years. In some states the maximum varies from 15 to 20 years.

Other states vary from maximum punishment of 10 years in Utah and 15 years in New Hampshire to only seven years in Arkansas. The law is possible for the offense of kidnapping which provides for seven to 10 years and 10 years.

Robbers may be punished by life imprisonment in Idaho, Rhode Island, Texas, Oregon, Utah, Illinois, Massachusetts, Michigan and Hawaii California provides for "not less than ten years." ## ACTIVITIES OF RUBBER INTEREST ARE DENOUNCED

(By Associated Press)

RIO DE JANEIRO, Jan. 10. Activities of United States rubber interests in the Amazon region of Brazil have been bitterly denounced in speeches before the chamber of deputies by three of its members during consideration of the critical situation through which the Amazon district is passing because of the low value of rubber.

The speakers denounce sales, valuations and inventories charged when they turned as the rubber trust of the United States was driving down the price of rubber, forcing the native planters to sell their rubber at very low prices. The government was called upon for prompt financial assistance to prevent further depletion of the product by the United States interests.

Deputy Sales, representing Amazonian rubber growers, said his state offering that unless prompt governmental assistance was given there would be a general abandonment of business in the Amazonian rubber interests.
